SENIOR NOTES:

BILL ANDREWS' drama career began at MHS with his starring role as Kenicke, in GREASE. Also that same year, Bill played Mortimer in ARSENIC AND OLD LACE. Bill's favorite role was probably in last year's musical DRACULA: THE MUSICAL? in which he played Dracula. The role of Mr. Westcott in BATS IN THE BELFRY was Bill's second appearance last year. This year for the Christmas musical JOY, Bill starred as King Herod, and he finishes his on-stage career at MHS tonight in the role of Paul Sycamore.

CRAIG GRAFF has been active in spring plays and Forensics. He insists he can't sing, so he has never tried musicals. But his first appearance on stage was as Teddy in ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, followed by an appearance in Forensics as well, doing a farrago and a special occasion speech.
